Soldier Charged With Theft of Motor Property

PFC John C. Dolker, 24, U. S. Army, on furlough from Camp Irwin, near Barstow, Calif., arrested by state police at Leeds, and turned over to the FBI yesterday, faces federal hearing on a charge dealing with theft of government property.

PFC Dolker, whose home is in North Blenheim, Saratoga County, is charged with having transported east in his own car from an army motor pool area in the camp, a jeep motor, several hydraulic jacks, a truck tire and chains, and various tools.

Authorities claim that he was "found to be in possession of" the stolen government property. Brought yesterday before U. S. Commissioner Thomas F. Saccoman here, Dolker, waived preliminary hearing, and was taken to the Ulster County jail in default of $1,000 bail. He was due to be taken to New York today to await early hearing before a Southern District federal judge.

3 Persons Hurt In Local Mishaps

Two persons were injured in two traffic mishaps on icy streets, one involving a school bus, yesterday, and a boy was hurt today when his sled hit a truck.

Allie Mannello, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Mannello, 149 Spring Street, suffered a laceration of the head and a skull fracture, shortly after 8 a. m., today when the sled on which he was coasting struck a truck of Terwilliger Brothers, 576 Albany Avenue at Spring and Ravine Streets.

The boy was reported in fair condition at the Benedictine Hospital this afternoon.

HIT Front Bumper

Officers Charles McCullough and William Whalen, said the truck, driven by Winfred Kurtz, 45, of 12 Adams Street, headed south on Ravine Street, had stopped at the intersection, when the boy and sled ran into the front bumper.

Four cars were involved in a mishap in front of the Governor Clinton Market on Broadway, reported at 3:45 p. m. yesterday, but only one person was slightly injured.

Esther Richardson, 54, of 72 Grandview Avenue, driving a car owned by Styles Express, reported an injured finger on the right hand.

Police said a car driven by Harriet Greenspan, 30, of 63 Valentine Avenue, skidded and hit the rear of a car driven by Joseph R. McGrane, 29, of 52 Lafayette Avenue, which was parked at the curb. A car driven by Dorothy Green, Rd 5, Box 92, Kingston then became involved, along with that driven by Esther Richardson.

HIT Rear of Bus

A report at 3:40 p. m. said an Acker Line school bus driven by Henry Amell, 28, of 16 Liberty Street, headed north on Broadway, stopped in a line of traffic for the light to change at Broadway and Cedar Street, when the car of Frank Raymond White, 18, of PO Box 382, "slid on ice in the middle of the road" and hit the rear of the bus.

White reported a head injury.

Tunisia Renews

the threats of military action by the lightly armed Tunisian forces. Today the Algerian National Liberation Movement, major force in the rebellion which has tied half a million French troops to Algeria, offered to back up Bourguiba with their troops. The Algerian rebel camps on Tunisian soil have more armed men than Bourguiba has in his whole army.

Tunisian threats to blockade Bizerte with sunken shipping touched off a flurry of speculation in National Assembly corridors. Deputies recalled vividly Egypt's effective blocking of the Suez Canal after the British-French-Israeli invasion.

Wants UN Hearing

Tunisia ordered her United Nations delegation to call today for a security council meeting on the bombing. Arab informants at U. N. headquarters predicted Tunisia would ask the council to endorse Bourguiba's demand for withdrawal of all French forces from Tunisia. They have remained under the treaty which gave Tunisia independence in 1956.

The United States tried to steer a careful middle course in the dispute. Secretary of State Dulles appealed to both sides to "minimize the impact" of the bombing and seek to develop the friendly relations he said are necessary between North Africa and Western Europe.

The United States seemed to be caught in a familiar position in this newest French-Tunisian dispute, seeking to be friends to both sides without committing itself to outright support of either.

Privately, however, officials in Washington made little effort to hide their anger at French military commanders who sanctioned or ordered the air bombing.

Card of Thanks

I wish to thank the entire staff of the Benedictine Hospital for the devoted care given to my sister, Laura Weeks. I also wish to thank all our friends for their many acts of kindness during the sickness and bereavement. Also those who sent flowers and spiritual bouquets.

Mitchell was appointed delegate to attend the Building and Construction Trades Department meeting in Washington, D. C., March 3-6. Other delegates will be appointed later.

Sabin said last night's meeting of the Chamber's board of directors was "the first opportunity at which several letters on this question (county office building) which have been given a great deal of publicity, could be presented and considered by the board of directors."

Our Chamber of Commerce has used the words "playing politics" or "politics" in any letter to anyone although these words have been frequently used by others.

Sabin released a statement Jan. 16 following a meeting of the board of directors, at which a complete report relating to the proposed county office building from the City and County Legislative Affairs Committee was received and considered. Attorney Hugh R. Elwyn is chairman of that committee.

'Political Issue' Words

The report said that it "This committee believes that it is very unfortunate that the county office building proposal, under consideration for 12 years, has become a political issue."

Sabin said today, "This statement merely called upon the Board of Supervisors to resolve their differences but also strongly favored the construction of a new office building."

"This stand was reaffirmed at the meeting last night and a letter to all 33 supervisors, under date of February 6, as authorized by the executive committee, was also reviewed. This letter asked all supervisors to give favorable consideration to the construction of a needed county office building."

Scores Inaction

Jesse McHugh, majority leader of the Board of Supervisors, in a letter to Sabin and Elwyn, dated Feb. 1, said charges of "playing politics" involving the proposed building should be aimed solely at the Democrats and not the Republicans.

He scored the Democrats, in that letter, for "official inaction."

Supervisor John Gaffney, minority leader, yesterday made public a letter to Sabin in which he said:

"I doubt very much if you would personally vote in favor of the expenditure of $2,500,000 in capital and $1,500,000 in interest for a project about which you were not consulted, and in which you did not believe."

Won't Vote Building

Gaffney said Democrats on the board agree that the present quarters of the welfare department are inadequate, and that the county clerk's quarters are crowded, "but it certainly should not require an expenditure of $2,500,000 to adequately house them."

Supervisor James T. McCordie, of 107 Pine Grove Avenue, (D) Ninth Ward, said in a letter to the Chamber he will not vote for the proposed building.

Sabin said today, "Our Chamber of Commerce still favors the construction of new county offices in the best public interest."

Meeting on Parking

Businessmen and property owners in the uptown section have been invited to a meeting on the proposed parking lot which will be held Thursday at 5:30 p. m. at the Hotel Kingston, Sabin said.

The proposal received unanimous approval at a meeting last week. George Swirsky is chairman of the parking lot committee, and an information sheet, showing a sketch of the proposed lot, is available from him, or at the Chamber of Commerce office in the Governor Clinton Hotel.

It is planned to raise as much capital as possible, form a parking corporation and borrow the remaining needed capital to complete the project. Shares of stock in units of $100 will be offered.

Can't Find Room

Preliminary figures from a Chamber shopping survey indicate—that out of 4,200 forms returned—that 46 per cent of the families shop frequently in places other than Kingston and eight of 10 replied gave difficult parking as the principal reason.

Other business yesterday's meeting included a report from the National Legislative Affairs Committee urging approval of a joint Congressional resolution which would authorize the Corps of Army Engineers to further study the possible modification of the waterway from Albany to the St. Lawrence River via Lake Champlain.

The matter was referred to the committee urging favorable action be taken and notice of approval sent to Congressman J. Ernest Wharton.

The Traffic and Transportation Committee, headed by Alex Embree Jr., was requested to study final plans for the proposed arterial route from Broadway to the New York State Thruway

Quick Action Is Urged by Meany To Aid Economy

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Organized labor expressed doubt today that the nation's lagging economy will begin recuperating at mid-year as President Eisenhower anticipates and called for quick government remedial action.

That was the reaction of President George Meany and other AFL-CIO leaders to the government's announcement in Washington that unemployment jumped beyond 4½ million in January.

Sees New Rise

Meany forecast that the jobless figure will rise at least another million before the employment situation improves. He called for launching a stepped up public works program and other stop-gap measures immediately.

The soaring jobless figures were the main talking point among AFL-CIO leaders as they wound up 10 days of winter meetings here. Meany said the figures more than justify the fear labor had expressed when business indicators began pointing down last year.

"I think the situation is far worse than the administration seems to feel it is," Meany said. "Frankly, it's getting to the point now where unemployment is creating more unemployment. We need quick action to bolster purchasing power to stop this thing from rolling in vicious circle."

Pledges Cooperation

The AFL-CIO leader pledged to work throughout the country with community groups to develop an effective program to see that no jobless worker or his family will go without food, clothing shelter or medical care.

At concluding AFL-CIO sessions yesterday the union leaders ordered all affiliated unions to insist henceforth on labor contract clauses barring racial discrimination in the nation's factories and other working places.

19 Lose Lives In U.S. Fires

By The Associated Press

Fires across the nation last night and early today claimed at least 19 lives — eight in one family.

The worst tragedy occurred at Alliance, Ohio, where a father and seven children perished when an old two-story frame house caught fire from an overloaded furnace.

A young mother and her two infant sons died in a tenement house fire in Worcester, Mass.

At least two children died and seven persons were burned seriously when flames destroyed a small apartment house and a neighboring frame dwelling at Flint, Mich.

Middletown Fatality

One other child was missing and believed dead in the ruins of the two buildings.

An aged woman died when fire broke out in the upper part of a two-story frame house at Middletown, N. Y.

At Kansas City, Kan., flames destroyed a three-story building housing Young's department store and threatened a whole block of the city's main business street. Damage was expected to exceed a half million dollars.

Fire in an abandoned coal yard at South Philadelphia, Pa., shot up towering flames and destroyed the yard's main building.

At Bayshore, N. Y., a gas main broke and thunderous explosion sent flames a story high in the Long Island community. The blast blew a printing shop to bits. Six persons suffered minor injuries.

Four Children Perish

At Fayetteville, N. C., four small children died when fire swept through their frame home while they were alone.

In New York City, Mrs. Mary Decker, 89-year-old widow, burned to death when fire leveled her century-old home in which she lived alone.

Mrs. Cecily Botens, 75, was found dead in the upper floor ruins of the Middletown, N. Y., house.

Defect in System

one called the home of this particular resident and the siren somehow was set off at that time. It was believed that the "bug" had been corrected until the siren went off again this morning.

Jump said the siren blows 10 times when the relay is activated.

Even when the master switch was shut off, cutting off current to the siren, the activator in the relay still tried to blow when the number of the resident was dialed.

In other words, if the switch weren't pulled the siren would go off every time that particular number was dialed.

Jump said The Freeman it was upsetting to the company, that it "gets everybody so excited" when the siren is sounded.

and recommend action on the proposal.

Some directors indicated that the plans do not adequately provide for local traffic for persons desiring to do business or secure services in the areas affected.

James D. Hood, chairman of the Education Committee, announced plans, in cooperation with a committee representing Kingston City Schools, for Chamber members to visit the city's public schools on March 25.

The plan reverses that of the successful Business - Education Day recently sponsored by the Chamber when teachers visited local industries and business establishments.

'Copter Removes Body From Home In Snowy Sector

A H-34 Army helicopter from Stewart Field was summoned to Schoharie County yesterday by Sheriff Claude Van Wie to remove the body of William Laeske, a 75-year old German refugee, from his snow-bound home on isolated Gates Hill near Middleburg.

Laeske died of a heart attack about 6 a. m. His wife, 59, who was alone with her husband when he died elected to remain at the home where they had been snowbound since last Friday.

Acting Coroner Dr. R. W. Andrews, who with State Trooper L. C. Rivenberg of the Middleburg outpost reached the home on snowshoes, said Laeske died of natural causes.

The helicopter landed at the Schoharie Central School with three men from the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, an Air Force doctor and a medical assistant, Sheriff Van Wie and the Westchester assemblyman would some day be elected governor.

Cities Accomplishments

The Yonkers assemblyman told guests at the dinner, sponsored by the Ulster County Women's Republican Club—that prior to Harriman's regime the state was in the 12th year of a "greatly productive partnership" between a Republican governor and a Republican Legislature.

Wilson said that the Republicans in those 12 years made greater progress for education, labor, mental health, highways, agriculture, conservation, hospitals and for strengthening local finances "than in any quarter century in the history of the state."

Education, Health Aided

While he said he did not propose to recite "the complete list of Republican accomplishments" during the 12-year period, the Republican accomplishments included creation of a state university and two new medical schools and development of one of the nation's leading cancer research centers.

"We expanded and paid for an improved physical plant of the state at a cost of nearly two billion dollars. And, the most satisfactory feature of the whole operation is that we simultaneously transformed an inherited deficit into a substantial surplus; established history-making 'rainy day' reserves of almost 150 million dollars and at the same time maintained tax rates lower than those in effect in 1940."

Wilson avowed that a Republican governor "is an indispensable ingredient in the formula by which good state government is compounded."

Unhappy Harvest

Retention of a "responsible" Republican Legislature, was fortunate, Wilson said, but New York State residents "are reaping an unhappy harvest indeed from the apathy, overconfidence, indifference, lack of will, whatever single factor or combination of factors" which produced the 11,000-vote plurality for Harriman in 1954.

Most of the beneficial measures which have been passed in the state in the last three years have been "conceived, drafted and brought into being" under Republican sponsorship and leadership, the assemblyman noted.

"Indecision and vacillation has become almost standard operating procedure during the (Harriman's regime)," Wilson said.

"Time and time again we have sponsored legislation which was vetoed by the governor only to have him—as the skiers say—execute a neat slalom, reverse himself and sign a similar bill in the ensuing year."

Saves Off Limb

Assemblyman Wilson indicated that these tactics invariably "left his own partisans in the Legislature in a state of bewilderment" as they voted against the bill in anticipation of a repeated veto only to find that the governor sawed off the limb on which his inconsistency had left them so precariously perched.

He cited legislation involving welfare and pension funds, appropriation of funds for establishment of a Long Island teachers college, and a bill providing additional roadside picnic areas as examples of the governor's "inconsistency."

Drifts to Chaos

Wilson said the Liberal Party vote elected Harriman and while the governor "has been navigating the ship of his personal political career between the Scylla of Carmine DeSapio and the Charybdis of Alex Rose, he has permitted the Ship of State to drift into shoals of confusion, mismanagement and chaos."

"Nowhere is this better demonstrated than in his inept direction of the state's finances which reached its nadir in the one billion, eight hundred million dollar budget he submitted two weeks ago.

Ugly Operating Deficit

"In spite of steadily increasing total revenues from existing tax sources—two hundred million dollars more this year than in the first year of his administration—in a span of a little more than three years Governor Harriman has transformed a handsome budgetary surplus into an ugly operating deficit."

"Parenthetically, it might be observed that according to the revenue estimates in his current budget message, the governor anticipates that this overall increase will continue during the next 12 months—which scarcely squares with the lugubrious lamentations of 'depression' which have been the monotonously dominant theme of his recent public utterances."

Operation Up 60 PC

"The filing of this all-time high budget marks the final step in his calculated and determined march to abandonment of the pay-as-you-go concept."

Wilson also scored Harriman's operation of the Executive Chamber, the cost of operating which, he said, was increased by almost 60 per cent—17 per cent higher than last year.

The Westchester assemblyman said the increase was to pay "for a constantly increasing battery of consultants, assistants, assistant consultants, consultants to assistants, special counsel and others whose duties are so nebulous as to defy the assignment of descriptive title."

Wilson described Harriman as "an amiable, affable gentleman, but rated off his performance in office" unequal to his present task.

Harriman has been "ardently engaged" in seeking reelection since he assumed office on Jan. 1, 1955, Wilson said, and when it comes to handshaking, Estes Kefauver is rank amateur by comparison.

Urges GOP Action

He said part of the re-election strategy is the attempt to disorganize the GOP "by propagation of the myth that Harriman cannot be beaten in 1958."

"The Republican party has within its ranks 'many able candidates,'" Wilson said, and Republicans should "put into task the dedicated effort which the re-establishment of order and direction the governance of the Empire State deserves."

He urged Ulster County Republicans "united under the leadership of Ken Wilson" to say that they "are ready to do their share—and more."

Former Mayor Frederick H. Stang, of Kingston, a keen student of the personal history of Abraham Lincoln, who served as toastmaster, recalled several anecdotes in the life of the first Republican president.

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson read a telegram from former Sen. Arthur H. Wicks, of Kingston, now vacationing in Florida, who expressed his regrets that he could not attend the dinner.

Praises Committee

Stang praised the dinner committee headed by Mrs. Robert Rognon, chairman, and Mrs. Leslie H. Hotelling, co-chairman.

Also introduced were Mrs. Bernhardt S. Kramer, president of the Women's Republican Club; N. LeVan Haver, GOP city chairman; Bernhardt S. Kramer, assistant city chairman, and Supervisor Jesse McHugh, Town of Shawangunk majority leader of the Board of Supervisors.

The invocation was offered by the Rev. William J. McVey, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, and the Rev. Mr. Joseph F. Connolly, pastor of St. Philomena Church, Town of Ulster, delivered the benediction.

Music was provided by John Valentine.

referred to him as an Atheist. It is true that Lincoln never concerned himself with the intricacies of theology, but he never made an important decision without prayer. He definitely believed that he was the instrument and vessel of Providence, and an agent of destiny. This he believed not in arrogance, but in deep humility, knowing always his limitations as a mere mortal.

Phillips Brooks said of Lincoln: "The goodness of real greatness and the greatness of real goodness, are united in Lincoln."

"I believe that were he alive today, he would be convinced of the need for a united world, as he was in his time of the need for a united nation. Lincoln never conceded the right of men to escape their responsibility. He would not escape from freedom or destroy men's initiative.

Like all unique souls, Lincoln was hated by the crowd who hid behind the facade of the merely acceptable and were afraid to be themselves, but he was loved by those who respected themselves and believed in the nation and the right of men to make their way in society.

Need His Moral Tone

Today, we need men who said as Lincoln did: "In times like the present, men should utter nothing for which they would not willingly be responsible through time and in eternity." The present means his time and our time. His was a critical age, and ours too is an age of enormous decision. We need Lincoln's moral tone. We need the great paradox of Lincoln's truth that there was a common man of the people believing deeply that no man is common, but all are unique vessels of the Lord.

Outlook Is Dim For Passage of Natural Gas Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Self-styled Democratic liberals made it clear today they will be prepared to cite the Republican voting record on the natural gas bill both in Congress and in the fall election campaign.

Both proponents and opponents of the controversial measure agreed, meanwhile, that the bill's chances of passage were lessened by the furor over a Texas group's tying support of the measure to a Republican fund raising dinner.

Disavow Connection

Texas Republicans raised $100,000 Monday night through a $100-a-plate dinner in Houston, advertised as an appreciation dinner for House Republican Leader Martin (Mass.).

H. J. Porter, Texas Republican national committee member, urged contributors to purchase tickets because, he said in a letter, Martin had helped to pass a natural gas bill in 1955 and would need to muster support of 65 per cent of the GOP members to pass the bill this year.

Both the White House and the Republican National Committee disavowed any connection with the appeal and the national committee said it would accept none of the money. Porter and other Texas party officials said they did not know what would be done with the proceeds.

Martin said he also knew nothing in advance about the gas bill's connection with the dinner, which he said he considered "just another one of those Republican fund raising dinners."

Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler said in a statement that Martin's name was "used to give prestige and authority to the shoddy exercise in mass bribery. . . . He described it as shocking."

The gas measure would remove producers from direct control of the Federal Power Commission, but would continue FPC regulation over interstate pipelines. It is generally favored in gas production areas, but opposed by many major consuming areas, including many large cities.

Urges GOP Action

He said part of the re-election strategy is the attempt to disorganize the GOP "by propagation of the myth that Harriman cannot be beaten in 1958."

"The Republican party has within its ranks 'many able candidates,'" Wilson said, and Republicans should "put into task the dedicated effort which the re-establishment of order and direction the governance of the Empire State deserves."

He urged Ulster County Republicans "united under the leadership of Ken Wilson" to say that they "are ready to do their share—and more."

Former Mayor Frederick H. Stang, of Kingston, a keen student of the personal history of Abraham Lincoln, who served as toastmaster, recalled several anecdotes in the life of the first Republican president.

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson read a telegram from former Sen. Arthur H. Wicks, of Kingston, now vacationing in Florida, who expressed his regrets that he could not attend the dinner.

Stang praised the dinner committee headed by Mrs. Robert Rognon, chairman, and Mrs. Leslie H. Hotelling, co-chairman.

Also introduced were Mrs. Bernhardt S. Kramer, president of the Women's Republican Club; N. LeVan Haver, GOP city chairman; Bernhardt S. Kramer, assistant city chairman, and Supervisor Jesse McHugh, Town of Shawangunk majority leader of the Board of Supervisors.

The invocation was offered by the Rev. William J. McVey, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, and the Rev. Mr. Joseph F. Connolly, pastor of St. Philomena Church, Town of Ulster, delivered the benediction.

Music was provided by John Valentine.

Utica's Police

committee, wanted to tell the committee his story first.

Joseph Falcone appeared before the committee last December. In refusing to enlighten the investigators about what happened at Apalachin, Falcone pleaded the Fifth Amendment 84 times.

Denies Demand

Falcone last Saturday branded Frasca's testimony as "baseless gossip." He also contended that the committee showed "utter disregard of individual rights."

Reuter, in announcing Fiore's resignation, denied he had demanded that the deputy police chief quit. Reuter added, however, that he had voiced the opinion that he was a police officer who could not explain his finances satisfactorily should not stay on the job.

Fiore denied he had taken gambling protection money. He said he had no more money than might be expected of a man in his position.

A policeman since 1929, Fiore appeared before the watchdog committee Friday and Monday, he denied Monday that he had ever warned a "bigtime gambler" of a raid.

He also said he was surprised that the Falcone brothers attended the Apalachin steak roast at Joseph Barbara's home because, he said, they had "good records" in Utica.

The Utica police official also has testified his brother-in-law is Poop Longo, identified by the committee as a Utica procurer with a record of gambling and bootlegging.

Missing Since May

Longo's cousin, Mariano (Happy) Longo, has been missing since May 27, 1957, when his automobile was found in front of Utica's union station. His hat, keys, and personal papers were in the car.

Mariano Longo's wife said yesterday that she had not heard from her husband since then. He was formerly in the banana business in Utica.

Highland Woman Pays Fine, Left Accident Scene

A 27-year-old Highland woman paid a fine of $40 last night on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident.

Troopers T. J. Crowley and A. W. Scrima of the Highland state police arrested Dorothy Minard after a day-long investigation. She pleaded guilty to the charge when arraigned before Justice of the Peace Patsy Conforti of Highland.

Troopers said Miss Minard was proceeding west on Route 299 in Highland about 1:30 a. m. Tuesday when she crossed the highway and smashed into a 1955 sedan owned by Louis D. Miller. The Miller car was parked in the driveway of his home.

Her vehicle struck the side of the Miller car, driving it against the garage. Both sides of the Miller car were described as heavily damaged.

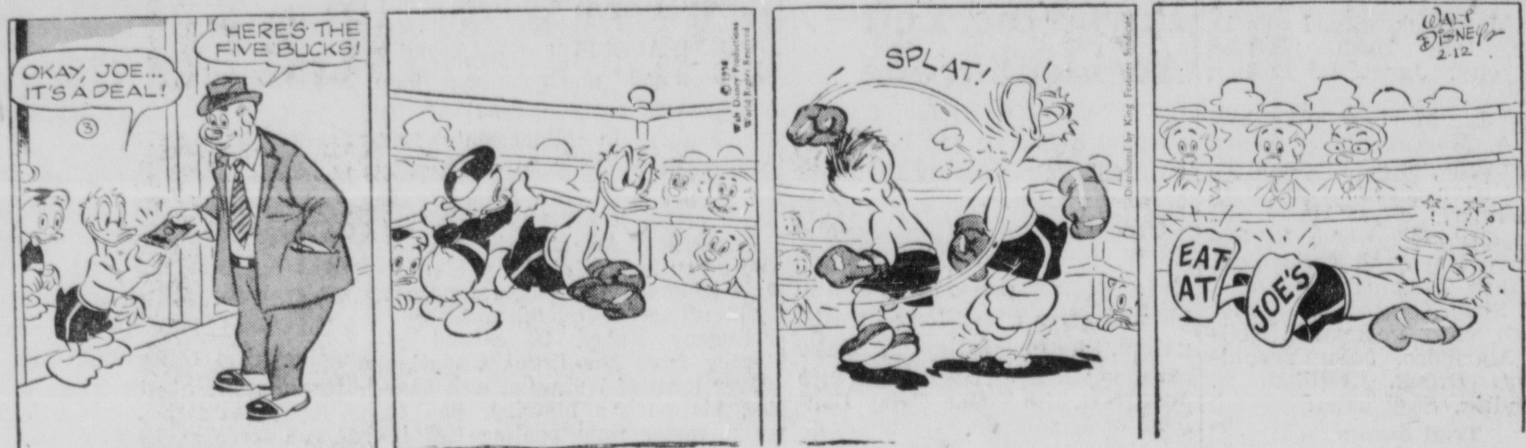

She told troopers she became frightened and left the scene. State police found parts of the Minard car at the scene and the marks of pink paint on the Miller car. With this information troopers succeeded in tracing the Minard car, arresting Miss Minard late Tuesday night.

Lincoln's great words, "A House Divided Against Itself Cannot Stand", are just as true, just as clear, just as timely now as they were when he spoke them. Prejudice and intolerance undermine trust and good will. It harms individuals and robs people of the influence for good they can become, if they do their part to curb this evil.

This 'n' That While battle cries of freedom rang, and slaves flung off their chains and sang. He, who had fathered this great good, a stout, and lonely figure, stood. Abraham Lincoln, sad and wise; with deep-set and prophetic eyes. Who knew the taunts of foe and friend; yet cherished freedom to the end. Kindly of heart... he steeled his soul, to civil war's inhuman toll. And when the cause seemed surely lost, he cried... "Again! Nor count the cost." Along the bitter path he trod, he sought the comfort of his God; and knowing freedom to be just, he let no hatred foul his way, but mourned dead boys in blue or gray. And, great in victory... could show, compassion to a fallen foe. Time has not tarnished Lincoln's name; nor slander undermined his fame. Humble in birth and spirit free—he is one with all eternity. And freedom that proclaims his worth will never perish from the earth.—Karl Flaster.

Abraham Lincoln once told friends how he earned his first dollar—and what it meant to him. The money was given him by two men for whom he hauled luggage on his flatboat to a waiting steamer. He concluded: "I could scarcely credit the fact that I, a poor boy, had earned a dollar in less than a day. The world seemed wider and fairer before me."

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

Thomas McNelis has given me a great deal of information on the trolley system, some of it was in a previous column.

Perhaps too many folks did not know that there were two trolley systems, The Colonial City Traction and Kingston City Railroad Co. and they were real competitors from 1894 to 1901. On Jan. 16, 1901, the Colonial City Traction Co. bought the Kingston City line and named the entire system, the Kingston Consolidated Railroad Co. so Mr. McNelis wrote. What brought this consolidation about, was a decision by the New York State Public Service Commission forbidding the Kingston City Railroad Co. to use its cars on the same tracks from the old Rhinebeck Ferry house through the U and D railroad yards to Kingston Point Park. There was no way possible to run trolley cars to Kingston Point Park, and the Kingston City Railroad Co. sold the trolley line to the Colonial City Traction Co.

At that time, the power house for the Kingston City Railroad stood where the Kingston Freeman Publishing Co. has its parking lot on Ferry Street. After the consolidation, the Kingston Consolidated Railroad Co. enlarged its power house in Ponckhockie and installed additional generators to take care of running both trolley systems, disposing of the Kingston City Railroad Co. powerhouse.

When the two trolley companies consolidated, they had 24 summer cars, 15 winter cars and two plows. No doubt many folks remember after a snow storm how the trolley plow cars used to clear the track and everyone wanted to drive on the cleared tracks and so got in the way of the trolley.

After the consolidation of the two trolley companies, the new Kingston Consolidated Railroad Co. laid a new switch opposite its powerhouse on the Strand. They laid new track from Abruyn Street to the new switch and from this new switch on the Strand to connect with the old tracks that were used by the Kingston City Railroad Co. on North street, so therefore, it was possible to ride by trolley from Linderman Avenue and Washington Avenue, right to Kingston Point Park, a distance of nearly seven miles for only five cents. If you preferred you could take a trolley from what's now Montgomery Ward's Store to Ferry Street and the Strand, switch over to Colonial line tracks and then ride to Kingston Point Park.

Thomas McNelis wrote in detail, I wonder how many readers remember in the good old summer time evenings when we used to take a five cent trolley ride over the road he describes on an open summer trolley car, uptown and back. That was really seeing the town and one's friends.

Before the consolidation the Colonial City Traction car barn was located on Smith Avenue now occupied by the Smith Avenue Storage Warehouse Moving Co. The Kingston City Railroad Co. was on the corner of East Chester Street and Broadway. When the two trolley companies consolidated the car barn at East Chester Street and Broadway was enlarged to house both trolley car systems. In 1910 owners of the trolley company sold their interest to Fred T. Ley Co. of Springfield, Mass. The last trolley car was run by motorman John Dawe, and conductor James Diamond, Sept. 30, 1930.

Why We Say--

POT LUCK

STEW TASTED: It used to be popular for housewives with large families to keep a pot boiling in which scraps of meat and vegetables were kept. There was always stew ready, but how it tasted was just potluck... depending on what scraps were in the pot at the time.

Crash Program

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (P)—It was a minor fire, but you should see the fire trucks. The pumper was hit by a skidding car as it pulled out of Central Fire Station onto an icy Zanesville street. The aerial truck was rammed by another car as firemen backed it into the garage after the fire. And a police cruiser, hurrying to the fire, was hit by a third car.

Primitive Tactics Hurt

Supporters Wreck Chances
Anew for Natural Gas BillBy JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some people cut their throats once, and that's enough. But the natural gas people are beginning to make a hobby of it.

They spend a lot of money trying to get through Congress a natural gas bill which will free them of government price control and mean millions for them.

Repeat Old Mistakes

Then, by primitive tactics, they wreck their chance. They did that in 1956. In Texas this week they just about ruined any hope for passage of a gas bill this year.

In 1956 Congress passed a law giving the government control over the price of gas moving across state lines. The gas-oil people have been trying to get a new law canceling out the old one.

They were going well in 1956, with President Eisenhower favorable toward a natural gas bill and the Democratic and Republican leaders in Congress behind it.

Then suddenly Sen. Case (R-SD) shocked the country by telling the Senate some lawyer he didn't know had dropped $2,500 into his re-election campaign fund. And Case said he thought it was done to influence his vote on the bill.

Democrats and Republicans teamed up anyway to pass the bill. But by now there was an odor from this piece of gas legislation and Eisenhower vetoed it.

After a Senate investigation of Case's charges, two lawyer-lobbyists—John M. Neff and Elmer Patman, both employed by the Superior Oil Co. of California, pleaded guilty in court to lobbying without registering as lobbyists.

After the 1956 disaster, with no action in 1957, a new try was to be made this year. On Monday night Rep. Joseph Martin, House Republican leader, was given a $100-a-plate dinner in Houston, Tex. Martin was the speaker at what he said was "just another one of those Republican fund-raising dinners."

It was put on by H. J. (Jack) Porter, Republican national committeeman and an Eisenhower supporter from away back.

But the Washington Post brought to light a letter written by Porter Jan. 30 to boost the sale of tickets for the dinner.

"The letter said it would be up to Martin, described as a friend of the bill, 'to muster at least 65 per cent of the Republican votes in order to pass the gas bill this year.'"

No Rosy Picture

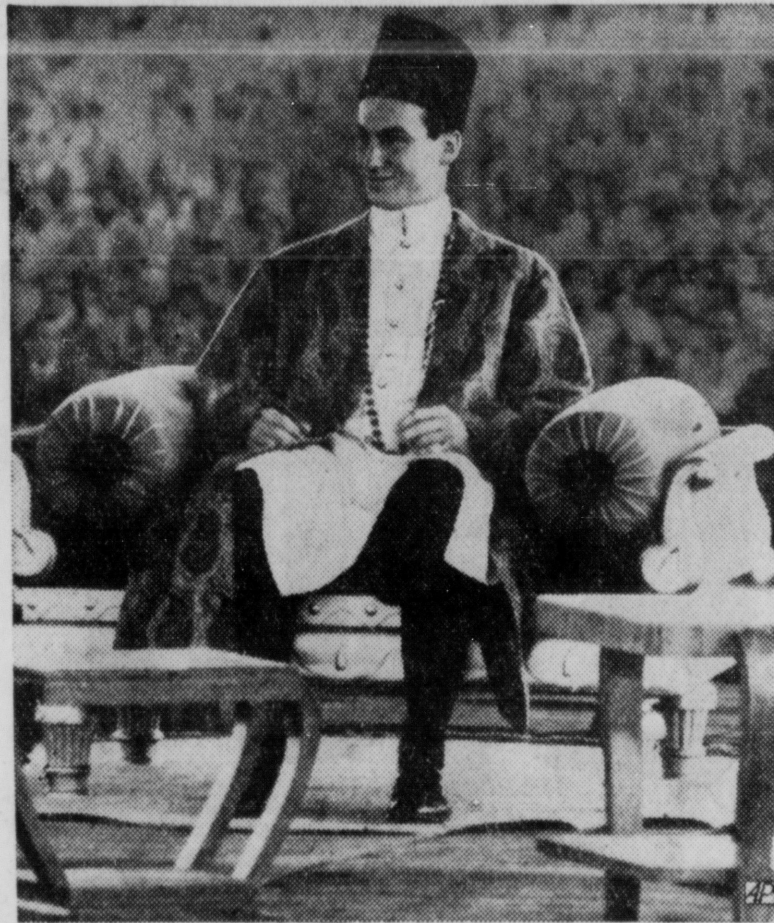

After this letter appeared in the Post Tuesday, the Eisenhower administration and the Republican Party leadership began denying any knowledge of it.

Meade Alcorn, Republican National Chairman, also said, "The Republican National Committee will not accept any funds from the proceeds of the Houston dinner."

This whole episode gave support to opponents of the bill. And it's bound to make Democrats and Republicans who'd like to vote for it a little self-conscious. No one now sees a rosy future for the bill.

Longest Term

Attorney general of the United States with the longest term was William Wirt, who served under Presidents James Monroe and John Quincy Adams from 1817 to 1829.

Lefkowitz Fight
On Crime Faces
Harriman's Veto

ALBANY (AP)—Republican Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz' campaign to war on the underworld moved today toward a certain veto by Democratic Gov. Harriman.

The Assembly's GOP majority brushed aside Democratic protests yesterday and passed a bill that would empower the attorney general to probe crime on his own initiative. Now, he must await an order from the governor.

The Assembly proposal, passed 94-53 along strict party lines, was sent to the Senate, which also is heavily Republican.

From there it goes to its death on Harriman's desk. The governor, who has said he will not abdicate to a Republican attorney general, wants a three-man crime commission to fight gangdom.

In Assembly debate, Majority Leader Joseph Carlino accused Harriman of being "derelict in his duty" for not ordering Lefkowitz to move against organized crime. The Democrats, arguing for the crime commission plan, contended that a single investigator might think more of political advancement than his job.

Lefkowitz said he would move to link his office and local law enforcement agencies "in one mass drive against organized gangster operations" if Harriman signed the bill.

Study N. Y. Egg Prices
For U. S. Quotations

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department today questioned the wisdom of using New York egg price quotations in setting prices in other parts of the country.

It said a study showed that most eggs in New York are traded on the basis of quotations by one private market reporting firm. This firm in turn uses quotations based, it said, on trading on the New York Mercantile Exchange.

"Few eggs are actually sold on the exchange and there is some doubt that this trading accurately reflects actual supply-demand conditions in the market," the department said in a report.

"Moreover, use of the New York quotation is setting egg prices in other markets, where conditions may be quite different, may result in unsatisfactory pricing," the report stated.

47 Employees Are To Go at Hercules

It has been announced that 47 employees will be furloughed Thursday, Feb. 13, by the Port Ewen plant of Hercules Powder Company.

R. C. Tucker, works manager, said "Operations had been stable until the first of the year, but a reduction in orders makes this present action necessary."

After the furlough, the plant will still employ approximately 625 people, Tucker advised. He added, "It is hoped that general business conditions will improve in the coming months so furloughed employees may be recalled."

Father, Seven Children Are Victims of Fire

ALLIANCE, Ohio (AP)—A father and seven children died in a fire early today which destroyed their two-story frame home. Fire officials blamed an overheated coal furnace for the blaze.

The mother and a baby son escaped in the near-zero cold.

The victims were Robert L. Lilly, a chipper at the American Steel Foundries Co., and Cynthia, 13; Gregory, 11; Marshall, 8; Clara, 7; twins Robert and Robert, 5; and Pamlin, 4.

Mrs. Barbara Lilly fled in her night clothes, carrying 5 months old Miles.

Fire Chief Milo Sights said the fire started in the basement, curled up the stairway and whipped around to the first and second floors.

The father's body was found in the bathroom. Three of the children were huddled in a clothes closet in the front bedroom, four others in a back bedroom—two on the bed and two underneath it.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Companies are pepping up their selling efforts today as a cure—for their own firm at least—for the recession.

They are wooing the consumer with promotions and gimmicks from trading stamps to discount type price cuts. They are looking to the colleges to turn out more good salesmen—and egging on the ones they have to try harder.

They are making pleas to the buying public to keep the purse strings loose in everyone's interest. George P. Hitchens, manager of the economic analysis department of Ford Motors, says buying at the normal rate can keep the slump from going deeper.

They are planning conferences to convince consumers they should upgrade their eating, clothing and housing standards.

And through their representatives they are urging Uncle Sam to come to their aid by cutting taxes to release more buying power and by increasing government spending which will trickle down from the companies getting the orders to the employees they rehire and those their suppliers rehire.

In some ways it's an uphill job. Take a few examples:

In recruiting college students as salesmen there are a couple of snags. J. D. Staunton, director of training, headquarters staff, National Starch Products Inc., says a survey of 31 colleges in 25 states shows that many college men look on a selling job not as a career but as a way to find out about a company in preparation for stepping into a management job.

Wrong Notions

Staunton tells the annual marketing conference here of the American Management Assn. that when they like the idea of being a salesman, college men generally have wrong notions of what a salesman's job today includes. Could that stem back to those days of stories about how salesmen fared in farming communities?

Businessmen ought to step in and help change this, Staunton says—and even more they ought to have better training schools of their own for the college man arriving on the job.

Or take the efforts to get people to upgrade standards—meaning buy more or spend more. Some 40 farm and food industry groups are meeting in Washington soon. Aim: to try to reverse the "rising consumer indifference to the necessity for an adequate and balanced diet."

Homer R. Davison, president of the American Meat Institute and chairman of the planning committee for the conference, blames the trend on "food fads, self-prescribed diets and the American tendency to hurry and rush" which result in "meals lacking the nutrients essential for good health."

He said the conference is backed by farmers, processors, distributors and merchandisers who are dropping their own rivalries to plug for more emphasis on consumption of better food.

Americans have gone on increasing their food spending each year, even if their purchases aren't for as nutritious diets as the food men approve.

Various Reasons

It's in some other lines that the selling is getting harder. Rising prices have a big part in this. But economists point out that there are other reasons.

For one, many consumers have had 10 years to buy the home and other gadgets denied them during the war. They might always want more of them, but their need may not be urgent.

And family needs change. The big baby crop of the 40s is entering the expensive school ages, with large families the style. Sending a boy to college takes a lot of discretionary spending money out of the family budget.

Today's salesmen, especially of durable goods, run up against this everyday. A tax cut would make his job easier—but still not a cinch.

Senior Roundup, Ivy Ball Listed Among Program Events for Ulster County Scouts

"You really have to possess a deep understanding and a genuine feeling for Girl Scouting to enjoy a Senior Girl Scout Roundup," Catherine Hammesfahr of Wallkill, presently enrolled freshman at the Vassar School of Nursing, told members of the Ulster County Senior Girl Scout Planning Board at the Governor Clinton Hotel recently. Miss Hammesfahr was one of three delegates selected to represent the Ulster County Council at the first Senior Roundup ever staged in the United States, held at the Highland Recreation Area, near Detroit, Mich., in the summer of 1957.

The Planning Board, representing more than 100 Senior Scouts within the county, is taking the lead in stimulating council-wide interest in the Second Senior Roundup, to be held near Colorado Springs, Colo., in the early summer of 1959. Based upon the Senior Girl Scout registration of December, 1957, each Girl Scout Council's quota will be one delegate for every 25 registered Senior Scouts. The Ulster County council plans to sponsor four delegates to the Roundup with four alternates in active training during the year preceding the national event.

"To qualify for the Roundup you must be well versed in basic camping skills and all phases of outdoor living," Miss Hammesfahr stressed. Recounting her experiences at the Senior Roundup, Miss Hammesfahr described the mechanics of setting up camp on a gigantic national scale in which 5,000 Senior Girl Scouts and maintenance staff members participate, the overall program, and the exciting events during the two-week stay. "Roundup is a broadening experience for any girl for future community and world living," Miss Hammesfahr concluded.

The board decided to sponsor a Spring Camporee at Camp Wendy, Wallkill, on May 23-25. Invitations for inter-council participation will be issued to Dutchess County, and the senior troops of Pleasantville, Westchester County. Tri-county planning sessions will be scheduled during the mid-winter months.

Plans were initiated for the annual Ivy Ball. The tentative date set for the semi-formal dance is May 2. Members of the board decided upon a "closed dance." Invitations will be issued to Senior Boy Scouts and friends of both groups.

An invitation to the Conference of Planning Boards of New York and New Jersey and the Annual Conference of the Senior Girl Scouts of Greater New York was extended to members of the local planning board by Miss Cherie Pierce, Senior Girl Scout advisor of greater New York. The two-day session will be held at the Hotel New Yorker, New York City, on April 8-9. At a recent meeting, the Ulster County Adult Council decided to sponsor two delegates to the conference. Delegates will be elected at the March Planning Board meeting.

It was announced that the adult board also approved the European trip planned for the summer of 1960. The trip is open to any registered Senior Girl Scout within the council area. This will be a three-year project embracing receiving status as an international troop, organizing planning and financing the trip. Visiting the Swiss Chalet, Girl Scout World Center, will be the significant climax of the venture. Advisers for the project will be Mrs. Donovan Buehring, council president, and Mrs. Jack Clark, member of the Council Public Relations Committee, assisted by Alan Mickel, finance chairman and members of his committee.

Mrs. David Ennis, county program chairman, spoke to the group pointing out the opportunity for experienced Senior Scouts to serve the Adult Council by assuming the initiative for planning and carrying out the day's program for several hundreds of Brownies and Intermediate Scouts at the annual Camp Wendy Rally on May 10. Volunteer troop assignments include: color ceremony and registration, Wallkill Senior troop 22; refreshments and serving, Mother Cabrini School Senior troop 48; games and entertainment on the intermediate level, Kerhonkson Senior troop 75; games and entertainment on the Brownie level, Kingston High School troop 90.

New representatives to the Planning Board presented at the meeting were Alice Brown and Johanne Friedman, of Kerhonkson; Agnes Pinse and Sara Watts, of the Mother Cabrini School. Guests included Mrs. Gertrude West, of Highland, Senior troop leader at the Mother Cabrini School and Mrs. Ennis.

Immanuel Guild of the Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church, Livingston Street, will hold a meeting and covered dish supper for its membership Thursday, Feb. 27, at 6:30 p. m. at the church. The occasion will mark the 50th anniversary of the Guild.

Violin Virtuoso Gives Brilliant Performance Before Community Concerts Audience Here

By DOROTHY A. NAREL
Freeman Society Editor

Michael Rabin, violin virtuoso, who made his official debut with the New York Philharmonic Orchestra at the age of 14, gave a thrilling concert here Tuesday night before a capacity Community Concert audience.

"It was violin playing at its best," said Leonard Stine, third vice-president of Community Concerts Association of Kingston and music director of Kingston schools. "Throughout the evening Mr. Rabin's playing was perfect. I thought his interpretation was excellent," he said.

Encores and several curtain calls gave evidence of how much Mr. Rabin's brilliant performance was enjoyed.

Mr. Rabin is a perfectionist. His technique was flawless even in the most difficult passages. A thoughtful interpreter, he has a thorough grasp of musical knowledge and speaks volumes through his violin.

Mr. Rabin's brisk, neat, well-tailored performance showed off to good advantage his disciplined training. His fingers moved with lightning speed. He bounced off passages that other gifted violinists would have hesitated to take at such accelerated speeds.

Selections Played
Mr. Rabin immediately captured his audience with "Sonata No. 3 in D," by Leclair with which he opened the program.

A high point of the evening was the performance of Brahms "Sonata in D minor, Op. 108." Mr. Rabin succeeded especially in projecting the mood of lyricism when he played the Adagio of this brilliant work.

The violinist also displayed mastery of the instrument when he played "Nocturne, Op. 9, No. 2" by Chopin-Sarasate, "La Capricieuse," Elgar; "Romanza Andaluza, Op. 22 by Sarasate; and "Burlesque, Op. 17" by Suk.

Delivered with admirable grace and spontaneity was Wieniawski's "Caprice in A minor."

Mr. Rabin brought his concert to a close with the performance of Bloch's "Nigun" from Baal Shem Suite and "Introduction and Rondo Capriccioso" by St. Saens.

Accompanist Excellent
Very often an accompanist for any violin virtuoso takes a back seat. But here again, Mr. Rabin exhibited his good taste and fine judgment in selecting Leon Pommer as his accompanist.

A fine sensitive artist, Mr. Pommer drew laudatory comment from the audience for his proficiency at the keyboard. Rarely does one hear two great artists in one evening.

For his encores, Mr. Rabin played "The Girl With The Flaxen Hair," by Debussy and Bizet's "Carmen Fantasy."

Musical Parents
The advantages of being born of musical parents may be both pro and con for a young musician. For Mr. Rabin it can be only an advantage, judging by his performance in last night's concert. His father, George Rabin, has been a violinist with the New York Philharmonic for more than 30 years; his mother, Jeanne, is a pianist who for many years was on the faculty of the Juilliard School of Music.

Most child prodigies, it seems, either burn themselves out at an early age or else fade rapidly from the public eye. Neither is the case for Mr. Rabin. For at the age of 21, not only is he known internationally, but seems destined for even greater recognition in the musical world.

Next Concert
Last night's performance marked the second in the series of three concerts sponsored by Kingston Community Concert Association. At the conclusion of the concert, the Association's Board of Directors entertained the artists at a buffet supper in the Senate Room of the Kirkland Hotel.

On April 16, Community Concerts will present Whitmore and Lowe, duo-pianists.

Admission to the Community Concerts, held at Community Theatre, is by membership card only.

ON RETURNING
INVITATIONS

Dear Mrs. Post: If I cannot accept an invitation to a bridge luncheon, (1) do I still "owe" this hostess an invitation, and must I invite her to a similar party? (2) Also, I never know whether it is proper to ask a less intimate friend the second time if she has refused the first invitation, or if according to etiquette I must let the next invitation come from her?

Answer: (1) According to etiquette, the invitation, even though not accepted, incurs an obligation which you ought to return, if you can. This return need not be an invitation in kind. (2) Certainly you may ask one who is in any degree a friend, as often as you choose. But you naturally would not continue to ask those who have given no evidence that their feelings toward you are especially friendly.

A Lady's Taxi Fare

Dear Mrs. Post: When a gentleman sees a lady into a taxi, should he pay the driver or give her the money to pay him?

Answer: If he had invited her to go out with him and then for some unavoidable reason he could not see her home, it would be proper to pay the driver and give him the address. But if he is merely a fellow guest at a party and, happening to leave at the same time, calls a taxi for her, he must not do anything about her fare. He shuts the door and says good night and that is all.

A Horseshoe Pin

Dear Mrs. Post: I received a very pretty horseshoe pin for my birthday and there has been some controversy as to the correct way of wearing it. I have been wearing it with the open end facing upward, but I have been told that it should be worn with the open end down. Will you please tell me which is correct?

Answer: Most people wear the open end up, probably because of the old superstition that all the good luck in a horseshoe will run out of it if the ends are down.

To help you plan a buffet dinner, Mrs. Post includes invitation forms, table setting and a menu in her leaflet E-29, "Buffet Din-

PROSPECTIVE COLLEGE STUDENTS AT TEA—Getting acquainted with members of the American Association of University Women, Kingston Branch, on Tuesday were a group of senior high school girls who are planning to go on to college. Among those attending the tea

Future College Students Are Entertained At Tea by Association of University Women

Senior high school girls got a preview of college yesterday at a tea sponsored by the Kingston Branch, American Association of University Women.

More than 100 girls from Ulster County high schools, accompanied by their guidance counselors, were guests at the annual "College-Bound Tea" held at Kingston High School. It marked the first time that the event has been open to girls from all schools throughout the county.

Speaker was Dr. Lewis A. Froman, president of Russell Sage College in Troy. In discussing what colleges expect from prospective students, Dr. Froman stressed personal motivation as the strongest factor in determining a student's success in college. He pointed out that the student who thinks of a college education in terms of what it will permit him to do for others is weighing true values and will probably be more successful than one who uses such an education as a means to financial benefit or prestige.

Dr. Froman emphasized the importance of higher education for women in terms of the benefits accrued to her and to her future family, although she may not put the education directly to work in a career.

Dr. Froman is a graduate of the University of Missouri and received his doctorate at Cornell University. Mrs. Froman was also a guest at yesterday's tea.

Students attending included girls from Ellenville High School, Marlboro High School, Wallkill High School, Ontario High School, New Paltz High School, St. Ursula's Academy and Kingston High School.

Mrs. William Powers Jr., acting president of AAUW, welcomed the guests and introduced the speaker, Miss Margaret Mullen was chairman of invitations, assisted by Mrs. Alexander Chepeleff and Mrs. R. E. McNaughton. Pouring were Miss Ethel Hull, Mrs. S. Marvin Craft and Miss Isabelle Malone, Miss Blanche Kirschenblum was chairman of the hostess committee, assisted by Miss Ethel Hull, Mrs. Lloyd R. LeFever, Mrs. John I. Snyder, Miss Mildred Kirschenblum, Miss Margaret Mullen, Mrs. Joseph McNellis and Mrs. Jerry Elair.

The AAUW will hold its next meeting at 8 p. m. Tuesday, March 11, in the George Washington School. Mrs. Donovan Buchring will speak on "The Role of the Association for the Help of Retarded Children." All prospective members are invited to attend.

Girl Scout Cookie Campaign Starts Mar. 10; Mrs. Harold Seidel Accepts Chairmanship

Mrs. Harold Seidel, Lucas Avenue Extension, Kingston, has accepted the chairmanship of the annual Girl Scout cookie sale of 1958. Mrs. Donovan Buehring, president of the Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts, Inc., announced today. The cookie sale will open Monday, March 10, continuing throughout Girl Scout Week which marks the 46th anniversary of the founding of the Girl Scout movement within the United States.

During the past month Mrs. Seidel and the members of her committee have been busy outlining the organizational procedures for the annual cookie sale on a county-wide scale. Plans are proceeding rapidly. More than 2,000 Brownies and Scouts, under the direction of their leaders, are preparing to put this year's cookie sale over the top. By recent action of the Council Board of Directors, proceeds will be used for the expansion of the Girl Scout program to meet the increasing demand for troops to service girls between the ages of 7-17 and for capital outlay to provide the necessary improvements at Camp Wendy, the Ulster County Girl Scouts' established camp at Wallkill.

A new corner in the field of volunteer scouting, Mrs. Seidel has won recognition within the area for her work as county membership-nominating chairman. During the midwinter, she has also assisted Mrs. Hyman Greenspan, Kingston High School troop leader, with the teenage co-educational recreational and service program. Her daughter, Carol, is a member of the Intermediate Girl Scout Troop 4, at St. James Church.

Assisting Mrs. Seidel in the spring cookie sale will be Mrs. Eugene Collins and Mrs. Robert Fatum of Kingston, as county co-chairmen.

The Council's 11 neighborhoods will participate in the cookie sale with the following volunteer chairmen: Kingston Up-town Neighborhood, Mrs. Horace Brown; Kingston Downtown Neighborhood, Mrs. Howard DeWitt and Mrs. William Prendergast of Port Ewen; Onteora, Mrs. Samuel Rubin; Woodstock-West Hurley, Mrs. Henry G. Marx; Kerhonkson-Accord, Mrs. A. Feldshuh of Kerhonkson and Mrs. L. Aaron of Accord; Marlboro, Mrs. Carmine Pascale; Ellenville, Mrs. Harold Wilhelm; Marletown-Rosendale, Miss Anna Draudt of High Falls; Highland-Clintondale, Mrs. Dorothy Roberts; New Paltz, Mrs. James Connell, and Wallkill, Mrs. Herman Mahlandt.

Kingston High Overpowers Ellenville for Ninth DUSO Win

Geo. Uhl Sparks 86-44 Triumph With 27 Points

By TONY CORAPI
Freeman Sports Staff

It was a good night for Kingston High's cagers last night as they chalked up their ninth win in the DUSO League in comparatively easy fashion against a helpless Ellenville quintet, 86 to 44 in the Kate Walton field house. They have lost three and are 11-3 overall.

The Maroons' victory wasn't as impressive as the performance staged by Coach Jack Gilligan's second stringers which saw much of the second half action. It wouldn't be fair to the starters to say they were outdone.

But the Maroons' second team equalled any of the regulars' point output for any quarter this season with 32 points. This four-point-a-minute pace in the fourth stanza was sparked by Charlie Williams, Norm Wells, Bobby Short and Jerry McDonough.

They had a lot of good shoes to fill and in Coach Gilligan's own words, "the boys did an excellent job." Let's not take any of the thunder away from brilliant George Uhl, the Maroons' "bread and butter player" who dished 27 points in less than three quarters of actual playing time.

While accolades are being passed out, the usual steady and capable jobs were done by Bob Strong, Joe Klonowski and John Kelly. And as has been the pattern in the last three games, Klonowski went to the showers early, via the foul route. The curtain fell with less than three minutes in the third quarter, but before the fifth personal was chimed, he had given a good account of himself. But in the interest of future Maroons' success, it would be a lot easier on all concerned if "Jumpin' Joe" stayed around a little longer.

There were times when the Maroons looked ragged, but may be that can be attributed to the inferior play of the opposition. The Ellies played spotty ball, and early in the game it appeared that they might give the locals some trouble.

But that fear went by the boards as soon as the Maroons got their bearings and started to click against a floating man for man defense.

Pointwise, the Gilliganmen never had to worry. Uhl got them out in front with two quick buckets. The lead increased to 17-8 at the quarter and at the half it was 38-22.

The Ellies bright light up until the halfway mark in the second quarter was Ben Davis. He had scored five times from the outside, but then he came up with a sprained ankle after a play under his basket and was forced to retire.

That left Coach Chuck Walsh without a consistent scorer, but Bobby Wood did a good job in the last two periods. He tallied 14 points, to top the Ellie scoring.

Uhl's shooting was phenomenal. He canned 11 out of 14 shots from the outside for an amazing 78 per cent. Klonowski countered five out of eight and Kelly seven out of 15 for a respectable 47 per cent.

In all, the Maroons connected 34 times out of 69 shots for a 48 per cent. At the foul line, there was room for plenty of improvement. They converted only 16 out of 28 attempts.

Rondout Valley KO's Wallkill, 58 to 43

Rondout Valley stayed right on the heels of Coach Ed Witko's Ontario team in the tight UCAL race last night with a big win over Wallkill by a 58 to 43 score. The game was originally scheduled for last Friday but was postponed because of the storm.

Coach Chick Meehan's squad had tough going until the final quarter. Then the Blue Devils ran out of gas. Coach Ernie Thompson's squad led 12-7 at the quarter and 25-16 at the half. But Valley came out a different team in the second half. After four minutes they closed the gap and at the third period trailed only 35-33.

But it was only seconds once the first stanza got underway before the Meehan cagers tied the score at 37-all. The lead changed hands three times before Valley put on the steam and turned the game into a rout with four minutes to go.

Spearheading the drive were Jim Smith and Bill Mustian with 17 and 11 points respectively. Bill Bendell and Ed Hannon each contributed 10 points. Henry Hecht was the big gun for the losers with 17.

Liberty High Still Unbeaten, Humiliates Port Jervis, 80-52

Liberty High displayed its DUSO superiority last night by handing second place Port Jervis a sound 80 to 52 lacing at Liberty.

For the Redskins it was the 11th league victory and 13-0 overall and all but clinches their first DUSO title. For the Red Raiders it was their second setback. They have won nine.

Four of Coach Bob Van Slyke's charges hit double-figures, with its prolific scorer, Johnny Lawrence leading the way with 27 points. The amazing little man, who can do everything well on basketball court, overshadowed the Porters big man, Alex Osowick, who was held to 13 points.

The defense the Redskins put up to shackle the high scoring pivotman, was probably the best to date, although Ellenville did a fair job on him last week, holding him to 15 points.

After a 16-16 first quarter, the Redskins broke the game wide open with a smooth brand of basketball that ran Coach Pat Farace's combine into the floor.

With Jack Thompson contributing 20 and Josh Gerow 13, the Redskins lead was boosted to 36-29 at halftime and almost out of reaching distance at the third quarter, 53-40. But in the final period was when the league leaders really poured it on. They canned 27 points to the visitors 12, with Osowick held scoreless.

Bill Pepper turned in a magnificent performance in defeat, topping the scoring with 19 and handling most of the team's rebounds.

Paul Goldstein, who replaced Gerow when he went out on fouls in the third quarter, canned 10 points.

The Pimlico Futurity gets its name from the fact that the horses running in it were nominated through their dams before they were born.

Chester E. (Chet) Joy, chairman of the Stream Improvement and Fact Finding Committee of the Federated Sportsmen's Clubs of Ulster County, is an old hand at advocating conservation and protection of trout streams.

He and Ray Smith, the prominent Phoenicia angler, have been clamoring for such action over the years. The topic is being pointed up these days for possible legislative action and Joy's observations are sound and worth listening to.

With proper metaphor, Mr. Joy asks the sportsmen and citizens of Ulster County: "Are we looking at the present flood control measures in the right perspective? Have we accepted a monster in sheep's clothing—and cure-all for flood damage that is doing more harm in many ways, in its present form, than it is doing good?"

Glancing at the overall picture, Joy says we have lost many miles of productive and scenic Catskill mountain trout streams to the bulldozer in the Esopus and Rondout watersheds. These "mechanical monsters" have made sluiceways of long stretches of streambeds which will not hold fishlife in flood stage because all protection has been stripped away. In dry seasons there is no water at all in many of these areas due to unvarying flatness.

• Million and Half a Year:

"The New York State Conservation Department spends an estimated million and a half dollars annually in fish-stocking programs and these conditions exist in many streams all over New York State," says Joy. "By far the worst damage is happening to our reservoirs. Growing populations are demanding more pure water all the time with millions being spent annually into new reservoir projects. The upper basin of the Ashokan Reservoir is rapidly filling with silt and mud coming downstream with every run off."

"Kingston's emergency water supply Reservoir No. 4 is practically choked. So what does the future hold?" Joy asks. "Millions more to be spent for new water projects and huge sums being spent in dredging operations. We know the answer to all this lies in stream improvement, a program that has had many years of scientific study of cause and effect and actual practice."

Joy further points out that the Conservation Department has a well-trained staff of engineers for this type of work. The United States government flood control should sit in with them and learn our problems, he thinks.

• Dredging Is Not Cure-All

"Dredging alone is not the remedy because flood runoff is more rapid and creates greater erosion," he says. "Stream improvement with its several types of stone and log structures is still the best answer. There are a number still taking the brute of flood water in strategic spots on the Esopus and other streams after 30 years or more—well worth the money spent in their erection."

Joy suggests that deflectors built of log and stone cribbing where highways are close to the stream near the bends would stop highway flooding and also stop erosion at these points and give protection to fishlife. Cribbing at any point where banks are being cut away should solve much of the silting problem.

Joy closes with a strong appeal for organized action on this vital conservation project.

"We, the Federated Sportsmen's Clubs of Ulster County, realizing the dire need for improvement of our streams initiated a program in the right direction by erecting several log structures on Birch Creek last summer," Joy continues. "They stayed firm in flood conditions this past fall and helped considerably to right conditions in the Upper Esopus Big Indian area. This is a good start, if a small one, and makes us realize more than ever the need for legislation, if we are to protect and conserve our water resources, fishlife and soil."

We think Chet Joy presents a sound case and good arguments for his theories. We hope they receive widespread attention and help alleviate a situation which is an ever growing concern of all sportsmen.

Minute Car Wash, Balotin, Promise Land Score Victories in Y League

Minute Car Wash, Balotin R/X and Backs Cedaraps scored victories in the YMCA League last night. The Washmen downed Promise Land, 60 to 43; Backs turned back Caruso's Insurance 51 to 45 and Rex nosed out Wimpy's No. 2 51 to 50.

The Minute Car Wash fray marked the last game for Bucky Miller who leaves today for the Army. His final performance was an outstanding one as he scored 19 points to lead his team's victory.

Ray Lucas, however was the game's top scorer with 26 points, countering with some sizzling hook shots.

Wimpy's staged a last half drive in an effort to overcome a big third period lead by the Rexmen, but just fell short. Bill Chase, a new addition to the club, sparked the drive with 12 points. Chase had 14. Gorman led the winners with 14 points.

In a nip and tuck battle, the Backs took advantage of an 18-point second period for the margin of victory over the Insurance. Orr bucketed 21 points in victory, while he got good support from Van Wagener and Ebelheiser. Ainsley, DeCicco and Holstein were the main scorers for the losing squad.

Tied for Second in UCAL

Doug Swartz Leads Marlboro To 62-57 Win Over Highland

Doug Swartz set a torrid pace in the waning seconds to give Marlboro High School an important 62 to 57 victory over Highland in a UCAL game last night on the winner's court. It was a postponed game slated for last Friday.

Swartz set the winning pace in the final minute after the Highlanders had come from way back to knot the score at 54-all. Coach Bob Reylea's squad had trailed until Phil Bezzaro had dunked the goal that had given the team new life.

But they were unable to thwart off the drive of the Cashmen, especially Swartz who had a 24-point night. Fran Fino contributed 15 and Dom Favada 11.

The victory puts the Boro quintet into a second place tie with the Rondout Valley. Ontario Central leads with a 5-1 record. The second place teams have 5-2.

Bezzaro threw in 18 points and Bill Phillips had 14 to lead the losers scoring attack.

Highland took the curtain raiser, 31-30. It was Marlboro's fourth one-point loss of the season. Bloomer was top scorer for the winners with eight points. Bryan White canned 21 for the losers.

Saugerties on Short End of 79 to 64 Score

Coach Frank Hamblett's Hudson High team made it two straight over Saugerties last night as the Blue and Gold racked up a 79 to 64 victory on the Sawyers' court.

This conquest was easier for the Hudsonians than their first meeting which went right down to the wire before the Golds eked it out.

It was altogether different last night. Only the first quarter was close, 15-13. But at the half, Hudson was out in front, 39 to 25.

Big Bob Van Ness continued his hot scoring pace with 23 points and was more consistent in the final two periods than he was in the beginning.

Barry Wolven topped the Sawyers' scoring with 21 points. Bob Wolven, Bob Whittaker and Ed Rizzo each had 10 points. Bob Woodward contributed 17 to the Blue and Gold total and Ed Piester 15. Bill Clark had 13.

Saugerties junior varsity also went down to defeat, 64 to 34.

Milling (Electrol) and Byrne Chevrolet's Cop Pin Titles

3057 Gross 2808 Net in No. 1 Spots

Milling of Electrol posted a 3057 gross series and Byrne Chevrolet's of the Central Rec Major fired a net 2808 to capture team titles in the 21st annual Kingston Bowling Association tournament, the KBA announced this morning.

Randy Kelder, secretary of the KBA, said the delay in reporting scores that were rolled last weekend was caused by late squads on Sunday night and the necessity of checking individual averages of members on winning teams.

The Milling shot 2445 net and had 612 pins handicap to capture the tournament's major prize. George Barringer anchored with 573. Hank Sappe hit 517. G. Hoffman 459. Ed Krom 437 and Jack Longendyke hit 459. The score was worth $175.00 in cash and a trophy.

Byrne Chevrolet's put together team slams of 931, 933, 944 for 2808, one of the lowest winning net totals in years, reflecting the rugged scoring conditions.

Chris Gallo anchored the Chevies with 599. Other scores were: Jerry Oster 588, Frank Grimaldi 548, Joe McGrane 523 and Tom Carlino 550. The Chevrolet's won $75.00 in cash and a trophy.

Other net winners were Boulevard Gulf of the Ferraro Major 2775 for $50; and Rheingold Beer of Ferraro Major 2716 for $25.00.

Bowery Dugout of the No-Can-Do League finished second in the gross division with 3013 to win $150.00 in cash. Team No. 3 of IBM picked up $100.00 with their 2996.

Mannie's Barber Shop rolled 1078 for high gross team single and Alpine of the Major League had 977 team net.

Individual winners included Bruce Bruck, 280, gross individual single; Vern Van Deusen, 241, high net single; Mike Mostrowsky, high gross triple, and Larry Petersen 628, high net triple.

Bezemer In Gear

Shaking off an early-season slump, Dick Bezemer of Kingston has boosted his scoring average at Rollins College to 17 points after 17 games.

Bezemer, a three-time Florida All State and All-Conference selection with the Tars, has racked up 287 points in 17 games. Run-up is Dick Bath, a freshman from Bath, Maine, with 266 points.

Other top scorers include Jack Ruggles, Springfield, Ohio, 179 and Boyd Coffie, Athens, Tenn., 163.

Rollins has a 7 and 10 record to date, having failed to win a single contest on the road.

Bezemer sparked Rollins to its most recent win, a 69-64 decision over Mercer at Winter Park gym. After a close first half in which the score was tied several times, Bezemer knotted the count at 32-all and put the Tars on top with five seconds remaining in the half.

The Kingston ace garnered 26 rebounds and was aided by teammates Boyd Coffie and Jack Ruggles on offense and a fine defensive game by freshman Dick Bishop.

Duke Leads ACC Race

By DON WEISS
The Associated Press

Duke's Blue Devils, coming with a rush since Coach Harold Bradley junked height for speed a month ago, are top dog in Atlantic Coast Conference basketball today.

Probably the best five-time loser around, the Blue Devils climaxed an eight-games-in-a-month streak last night by making it to the top with a 65-48 "road" whipping of North Carolina State. Seven ACC foes and West Virginia, the biggest of them all, have fallen to the Devils in the streak that began Jan. 11 when Coach Bradley found a "speed" combination and turned 'em loose.

Dogged on a shifting zone defense and hot-handed on the attack, Duke has ballooned its record from an erratic 5-5 to 13-5 and the No. 8 ranking in the nation.

Lead ACC Race

In the process, the Blue Devils have stepped in front of the rugged ACC race with an 8-2 mark after wading through the roughest part of their schedule with road victories over Wake Forest, Clemson, defending national champ North Carolina, and 10th-ranked NC State, and home whippings of State, Virginia and South Carolina.

Of their four remaining conference tests, three are at home in Durham with only Virginia to be met away.

San Francisco's fifth-rated Dons were the only other top-ranking team in action last night as the schedule again was given over to a smattering of conference games.

The Dons, beaten once in 18 starts, ran their winning streak to 13 in a 69-49 romp over St. Mary's of California, just about wrapping up the title in the West Coast Conference.

A couple of the East's tournament possibilities kept rolling. Niagara over Holy Cross 83-73 as Boo Ellis celebrated his 22nd birthday with a 30-point show, and St. Bonaventure (13-3) over St. Francis (Pa.) 85-69. St. John's of Brooklyn, with backcourt whiz Al Seiden scoring 21, coasted past Hofstra 73-56. The St. Bonaventure victory was the Bonnies' 75th straight on their cozy home court at Olean, N. Y.

Gonzales Praises Aussies' Lew Hoad

NEW YORK (AP)—Australia's Lew Hoad is capable of becoming one of the greatest tennis players who ever lived, "in a class with Tilden, Budge and Kramer," Pancho Gonzales said today.

"My job right now is to forestall this as long as possible," the 29-year-old pro king from Los Angeles added, "but there's no question about it—this kid is terrific." Gonzales and Hoad resume their 100-match series at Madison Square Garden tonight with Pancho attempting to cut Lew's 9-6 advantage in victories. Tony Trabert and Pancho Segura play a preliminary match.

ELUSIVE LEATHER—Kingston's Bob Strong and Bobby Wood leap high into the air for a loose ball during last night's Maroons-Ellenville game in the Kate Walton field house.

Joe Klonowski (40) is set to grab ball on downward flight. Hobie Armstrong (52) guards the bucket.

Kingston Hopes Good For Sectionals Berth

It is not too soon to be thinking of the Class A scholastic intersectionals to be staged in Kingston and Troy on March 11 and March 15.

Representation will be from Sections 9 and 2 and a half games in the DUSO running are Class B calibre. Coach Jack Gilligan's squad is first in the A division, with either Poughkeepsie or Newburgh the second team.

However, the second team in the Class A standings must meet Nyack High for the right to represent Section 9. The two teams will then be matched against the Section 2 leaders, probably Mont Pleasant or Amsterdam and possibly Nott Terrace.

Mont Pleasant First
Pleasant is leading the upstate circuit with a 5-1 record; Amsterdam knocked off Friday night by Albany High is 4-2 and Nott Terrace is 3-3. Since the Rugmakers are to play the Dorp City squad, in Amsterdam Feb. 28, the battle for second place in that league could conceivably end in a tie, if Mont Pleasant beats Amsterdam and Terrace proceeds to increase its win record. Albany High is 2-3 and Troy High 0-5.

Finals in Troy
Assuming that Kingston and Poughkeepsie and Mont Pleasant and Amsterdam are the tournament choices, and they finish in the order named, the Maroons will meet Amsterdam and Poughkeepsie takes on Mont Pleasant in the semi-finals. The two winners will clash in Troy High gym for the title. If the finalists are from Section 9 the playoff will be in the Kate Walton field house, otherwise the game will be in Troy.

Red Raiders Big
Mont Pleasant, beaten by Amsterdam earlier in the campaign, is rated the power of the Capital District. The Red Raiders boast a tall team, with its scoring ace 6-5 Billy Kirwin. The smallest cager is 5-10.

The Raiders and Amsterdam are 10-2 overall. The Rug City squad has a smooth working combination, but lacks the height to put them in the Pleasant class.

Service Center B Leads Saugerties Dartballers by 2 1/2

Service Center B's widened its lead to two and a half games over second place Glasco Fire Company in Monday night's Saugerties Dartball League games by blanking Katsbaan 3 to 0. The Glasco Vols, not scheduled this week held on to second place. Quarryville with a 2 to 1 win over Cementon moved past Katsbaan into third place.

Other scores: West Camp 3, Centerville Vols 0; Centerville 3, Ruby 0; Glasco AC 3, Veteran 0; Cedar Grove 2, Trinity 1 and Service Center A's 2, Mt. Marion 1.

Goldberg Arrives
SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Syracuse basketball coach Marc Guley feels that Ed Goldberg, a 5-foot-10, sophomore from Fort Lee, N. J., arrived when he scored 30 points against Fordham and 21 against Pitt in the same week. Ed also held Pitt Star Don Hennon to 12 points.

Maroons Sharp, But Lax at Charity Stripe

Kingston High's Maroons had one of its good shooting nights in the Ellenville victory, sinking 34 field goals out of 69 tries, for a respectable 48 per cent.

George Uhl's 78 per cent on 11 for 14 set some sort of an unofficial mark in the DUSO league. Joe Klonowski and John Kelly also had their shooting eye razor sharp as they cashed in with excellent percentages. "Jumpin' Joe" potted five out of eight and Kelly, the sophomore ace, accounted for seven of the 15 shots he took.

In the rebounding department, it was Bob Strong all the way with 16. Klonowski 11, Dave O'Connor and Kelly, seven each, Hobie Armstrong and Uhl, three each, and Norm Wells and John Bruck, one each.

Uhl, the team's leader in assists, passed off five times for baskets, while John Bruck had four, Kelly and Strong, three, Charlie Williams, two, and Armstrong, one.

The quintet's scoring went like this by quarters: 7-12, 8-18, 7-20, 12-19.

HOLLYWOOD — That Army barber who yearned to scalp Elvis Presley's sideburns won't get the chance.
The rock 'n' roll singer is sporting a normal haircut for his current and last pre-induction movie — "King Creole." And it makes him look quite handsome.
Producer Hal Wallis, who got an eight weeks deferment from Elvis' draft board, finally let a reporter on the set yesterday to talk with Elvis. He said he didn't cut his sideburns off because of impending Army duty.
"I've worn long sideburns in all my movies," he explained, "so I figured I'd be a little different in 'King Creole.'"
Elvis finishes the picture March 14, takes a train for his home town of Memphis and expects to be at Fort Chaffee, Ark., by March 22.

More Data Given On War Orphans Education Act

Under the provisions of the War Orphans Education Act an eligible student must generally be between the ages of 18 and 23 and must plan to enroll in an institution of higher learning. The New York State Division of Veterans Affairs, and Howard Shurter, director of the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, said today that eligibility may continue beyond the age of 23 in some cases.
If the eligible child had passed his 18th but not his 23rd birthday when the law went into effect on June 29, 1956, he may receive education up to June 29, 1961. An eligible student who served in the Armed Forces before age 23 may receive the educational benefit up to five years after his discharge.
Director Shurter further said that if the veteran parent dies after the child is 18 but not yet 23 years of age, the benefit may be received up to five years from the date of the parent's death. Notwithstanding the above exceptions, the benefits of this Act will not extend beyond the recipient's 31st birthday.
Interested persons who have any question about their eligibility or desire further information and assistance in applying for this or any benefit should contact the State Division of Veterans Affairs and the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency office at 32 Main Street, or the branch offices in Ellenville, Highland, Kerhonkson and Saugerties.

Five Lose Lives As Plane Skids, Rams Blockhouse

RAPID CITY, S. D. — Four Air Force men and a civilian employee were killed when a huge B52 bomber skidded out of control during a landing yesterday and plowed into a radio control blockhouse.
The eight-jet air giant assigned to a bomber squadron at Ellsworth Air Base here, demolished the shack and plunged it into flames, killing the two airmen and a civilian worker inside. Two of the plane's crew members were killed, and four other crew members plus two military passengers escaped with minor injuries.
The dead crewmen were identified as 1st Lt. Kenneth B. Kaeppler of Milwaukee and Capt. John O. Connell Jr. of Chattanooga, Tenn., who escaped a B36 crash at Denver two years ago.
The other dead was Ronald R. Mitchell, Canton, Ohio, and James E. Ferrell, Williston, N. D., both airmen, and Glen M. Allen of Rapid City, a civilian employee.

New Soviet Envoy Declines Politics

WASHINGTON — Russia's new ambassador, Mikhail A. Menshikov, attended his first White House formal affair last night—a state dinner for diplomats—and diplomatically steered away from politics.
When a reporter started to ask him about the summit conference, the gray-haired Menshikov, with a polite wave of his hand, declined to discuss politics.
He said he and his wife enjoyed the dinner, their first official social function since arriving in Washington Thursday. But he wouldn't take a stand on whether he preferred champagne, which was being served at the White House, to his native vodka.
The Menshikovs were among 76 dinner guests at the second of two state dinners given by the President and Mrs. Eisenhower on successive evenings for the heads of foreign missions here.
